

Communicating Our Findings

Step 1: Exchanging Ideas

Talk with one another about your research. Synthesize your facts and ideas and record them below or on a separate piece of paper. Select the most compelling information to share in your presentation.

Step 2: Creating a Design

Brainstorm ways you might communicate your research to your classmates in a five-minute presentation. Consider creating a debate staged by your group, PowerPoint presentation, poster, drama, magazine, game, scrapbook, simulated news show, panel discussion, or another idea your team has. Be creative in your method of presentation. Your goal is to provide your research in a clear, concise manner and in a way that will appeal to your peers.

Step 3: Select the Method for Communicating Your Findings

We have decided to communicate our research findings by:

Step 4: Assign Responsibilities

Decide who will be responsible for various aspects of your presentation. Divide the work load so that everyone has a chance to contribute.

Responsibility	Person Responsible